April 2019

Welcome to the Library Event!

On Tuesday, April 23 from 5:00-7:00pm, come enjoy a free evening discovering what the library has for you! There will be tours available in English and Spanish, face painting, and free tacos made by Ayala's Market!

Our goal with this event is to welcome the Hispanic population of Waterloo to our library. In 2018 we applied for a grant through WiLS, a non-profit membership organization that facilitates collaborative projects to advance library service, primarily in the state of Wisconsin. We were awarded this grant and have been busy planning how to make this goal successful.

Along with this welcome event, we have been adding to our Spanish collection, and reaching out to employees of McKay Nursery and members of the ESL classes that take place here at the library. We hope you join us for this fun event!

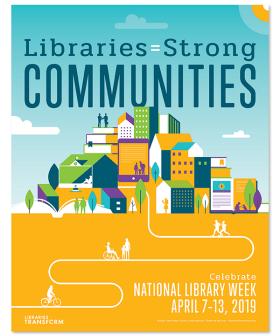
National Library Week
April 7-13, 2019



Celebrate National Library Week with us! All week long we will be collecting non perishable food items for the Waterloo/Marshall Food Pantry. When you make a food pantry donation, you qualify for fine forgiveness for overdue items as well as free library card replacement!

We also have some fun events planned this week! Join us for snow cones on April 9 from 3-4pm, and a MarioKart tournament on April 11 at 3:30pm. Cook the Book will also be taking place on April 11 at 6:00pm. Choose your taco recipe from a cook book on display at the front desk!

From the Directors Desk

Do you have a favorite magazine that you read and check out here at the library? Or do you have a favorite magazine that you just need to purchase a subscription for at home? When the city cut our budget for 2019 by $21,400 one of the most noticeable changes was the library's hours being reduced. One of the least noticeable changes will be taking place this June and July. Our entire magazine subscription fund was dropped and all of our subscriptions will be coming to an end. If you would like to see the most popular magazines stay at the library, I am asking for your help. Would you, your family, or your business like to sponsor a magazine subscription? If the answer is yes, then first THANK YOU! Next, please get in touch with myself so we can choose a magazine to subscribe to and figure out the rest of the details!

OPAC iPad Station

Finding or placing a hold on that perfect book, movie, or CD just got easier! Use the iPad station located at the front desk to search the CAFÉ catalog!

Spring has Sprung!

Spring has arrived at the library! Looking to spruce up your yard? Have a home DIY project that you've been waiting all winter to start? Check out one of these April Display Books!

Also, don't forget about our Spring Landscape program with McKay Nursery on April 22 at 6:00pm! Now that the snow has finally melted, discover the best ways to care for your plants!

FRIENDS NEWS

This month, we spruced up the men's bathroom with a fresh coat of paint on the stalls. We are working on completing the bathroom beautification project this spring.
Looking ahead to summer, we will be volunteering at the Farm & Technology Days in Grellton, outside of Johnson Creek. This is a great opportunity to raise money for the Friends and support the library. We will be volunteering in the food tents. Each volunteer will earn an hourly rate for our organization! We will be serving one 5-hour shift on July 23, 24, or 25. The time-slot and date haven't been assigned yet. We could potentially volunteer the weekend before by helping with set-up, or the Friday afterwards by helping with tear-down. Those volunteering in the food tent will be required to attend a 2-hour training this spring to go over food service regulations. We would love to have at least 10 volunteers! If you are willing to serve alongside us, please call the library to leave a message for Susan at (920) 478-3344 or email us at kjmlfriends@gmail.com. We need to know how many volunteers we will have by April 15th. Thank you!

It's your Lucky Day!

Looking for the newest and hottest book or movie? Always check the Lucky Day shelf! Here you will find all the new releases helping you skip the waiting list!

Meals on Wheels

Do you have an hour or two of your time that you could give once a week, month, or even year? Did you know that KJM Library operates Waterloo's Meals on Wheels program, helping to provide seniors in our community nutritious meals delivered right to their home? Volunteers are needed to help deliver these meals. If you are able to help, please contact Joel at the library. (920) 478-3344.

Thank you!
