Congratulations to Our Summer Readers

Congratulations to everyone who participated in our 2013 Dig Into Reading Summer Reading Program! We had a great turnout this year with 316 registered participants of all ages. Our participants were entertained throughout the summer by storytellers, musicians, magicians and our first ever worm race! The Portland Boosters 4-H Club, storyteller and musician Tom Pease, juggler Jason Huneke, Zoozort, and Rob Erdmann Magic were among the entertainers and artists that appeared at the library.

Our Summer Reading Program final party was enjoyed by more than 130 participants. The party included a catered lunch and a scavenger hunt. Face painting was provided by WendtWorks Facepainters and balloon sculptures were created by Funny Faces Family Entertainment. During the party, grand prizes were awarded and book prizes were chosen.

Fall Chills and Thrills!

By V. Cook

In late September, Stephen King will release his newest book Doctor Sleep, the much-anticipated sequel to his 1977 classic, The Shining; the story of a family haunted by ghosts, cabin fever, and alcoholism while staying as care-takers of The Overlook Hotel one winter. Doctor Sleep catches up with clairvoyant Danny Torrance in middle-age as he struggles to save a 12 year-old girl from another paranormal nightmare. But, before you read King's latest novel, why not revisit the original? We have it at the Waterloo Library! You can also check-out our DVD copy of Stanley Kubrick's 1980 film-version of The Shining, an interpretation that Stephen King criticized for taking too many liberties with his narrative. You can be the judge of that! Get your chills and thrills this fall at the library with The Shining-themed reads and reels.

Check-out a New Work-out!

By V. Cook

As the fall months turn colder, we tend to take our exercise routine indoors. But, after a few weeks of the same work-out videos in your home collection, it's easy to lose motivation. Don't get stuck in a rut! Use the library to find new work-out books and DVDs! Just search a keyword term such as yoga or Pilates. You might also try requesting work-outs by your favorite instructors. If we don't have it at KJM Library, we can usually find a copy in our larger library system. Put the fun back into home work-outs this fall and throughout the winter months by using our simple search and request services.

A Fond Farewell

On To Retirement: Cecilia Wiltzius

I have decided to retire from my position as Library Director effective October 4.

First, I would like to give my Oscars Acceptance Speech. I want to especially thank the Library Board members I have worked with over the years. Each of them has been very supportive of our library and my efforts. I have had the same support from city government, from the members of the City Council as well as city staff. The employees of the Clerk/Treasurer Office, the Police Department, and Public Works are incredibly efficient and have provided timely help to the library. I want to single out the hard working library staff for their daily efforts to provide quality library service to the community. Everyone has made the library a vital city service.

Much has happened at the library since I became Director in August, 2005. We transitioned to an automation system that streamlines circulation, cataloging, and interlibrary loan. Public access computers and wi-fi have been provided as patrons use the internet for their information needs. I have especially enjoyed coordinating the two adult books clubs. What great groups of readers!

We expanded other reading programs to include the Fired Up Reading Challenge and Chill Out and Read. When the request came from Jefferson County to find a local solution to the senior nutrition site, we agreed to coordinate Meals on Wheels for Waterloo. The most satisfying day of the year is the last day of school when students and parents immediately come to the library to register for the Summer Reading Program.

I will be busy in retirement doing what all retired librarians do: continuing to learn. My list of books to be read is as long as ever. Follow my progress on Twitter @cece_wi.

Thank You to Cecilia Wiltzius, Library Director

The staff at KJML would like to thank Cecilia for her years of dedication to the library. As Cecilia enters into retirement it is time for us to acknowledge our thanks for the years of leadership that she has given the KJM Library. Cecilia provided the combined gifts of wisdom, fairness and control to the library and she has been a fantastic director. We cannot thank Cecilia enough for the hard work she has put in, and the guidance that she has provided. It is time for us to wish Cecilia all the best for her retirement years. The Waterloo community will miss her smiling face, and hope that she'll visit us when she has time.

There will be an open house, Wednesday, October 2nd from 5-7PM at KJML for those wishing to bid a farewell and congratulations to Cecilia.
